ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., SATURDAY, JULY 15, 1911. PRICE TWO CENTS.

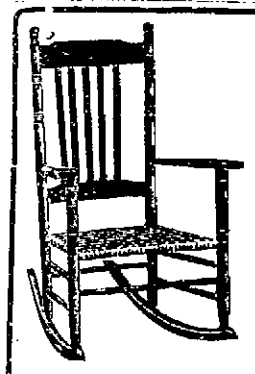

HERE'S WHERE APPEARANCE COUNTS.

The ice and the iceman do their part, we really couldn't do without them; but why is it the girl in white always brings a breeze with her—surely not because she is always carrying the ice water pitcher. It's just because she looks so cool, and that's more than half the secret of our summer comfort—the looks.

Summer Rugs.

We've a splendid assortment of breeze laden rugs—pure white ground with odd designs woven in beautiful shades of blue or green. Nothing could possibly add more to the cooling appearance of porch or bedroom, they add an artistic touch too that's truly delightful—not at all expensive either.

COBB TO VOTE FOR ITS RETENTION.

Former Governor of Maine's Stand on Prohibition.

His Action Best for Moral and Economic Welfare of the State.

ROCKLAND, Maine, July 15.—His mail deluged with inquiries from every part of the state relative to his stand on the prohibition crisis which Maine is now facing, former Governor William T. Cobb, widely known as sponsor of the now discarded Sturgis law, under which he sought to give the state an effective enforcement of the prohibitory liquor law, was compelled today to issue a formal statement. He has neither apology nor absolute denial to offer for the statement widely circulated by the opponents of prohibition, who quote him as preferring "free rum" to prohibition, as he had been able to enforce it in four years of strenuous trial, but announces his firm intention of voting for the retention of the prhibitory amendment. His statement follows:

"Several newspapers published in the state, and now advocating the repeal of the prohibitory law, have recently printed my portrait and coupled with it a statement in the form of a quotation which, if allowed to stand undisputed or unexplained, would fairly indicate that I was opposed to the law in question. This quotation originally appeared more than a year ago, and when I first saw it it was based upon an alleged interview. I have no fondness for newspaper controversy and did not believe that my views upon any phase of the temperance question would be of further interest to the people of Maine, or would be used by any one to influence the results of the present campaign. I therefore said nothing. But my silence is now being construed in a way that is prominent and distasteful, and in fairness to the many who have asked and written me about the quotation and my views I consider it proper and desirable to give publicity to the facts regarding both.

"While I have no positive recollection of having used the exact words attributed to me, I cannot and do not deny that I said them. The result of the attempt to enforce the prohibitory law during the four years ending in January, 1909 was a keen disappointment to me and I realize that in periods of chagrin and dissatisfaction I may have expressed in private conversation and to friends the sentiments now quoted against me. So far as my personal views and proposed action are concerned, or may be of interest, I intend to vote in September for the retention of the prohibitory amendment and shall do this because I believe a vote to that end is the best contribution I can make to the moral, social and economic welfare of Maine."

PARIS, July 15.—John W. Gates had a bad night, but rallied this morning, and at noon his condition was about the same as has been generally for two or three days. Mrs. Gates and their son, Charles G. Gates, are constantly in attendance and both are quite exhausted by their arduous watch.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Gates was said to be somewhat better. Dr. Russell Ryan of London, who will arrive here tonight, will remain over Sunday in frequent consultation with Dr. Gros and the other attending physicians.

CONEY ISLAND THREATENED.

Fire in Amusement Enterprise Called "Tunnels of Love" Controlled.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Coney Island was threatened with another destructive fire today. Ten engines rushed to an amusement enterprise called "Tunnels of Love" and the firemen, remembering the rapid spread of the $2,000,000 Dreamland conflagration, deluged the building with water in such quantities that the "tunnels" were quickly awash. A few thousand dollars will cover the damage.

CRIMINAL ACTION MAY YET BE TAKEN.

Attorney General Has Not Said All Cases Expired.

Former Secretary Dickinson Brought Into Alaska Matter.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Attorney General Wickersham today made an informal reply to the charge of Delegate Wickersham of Alaska that he had allowed the statute of limitation to expire in certain Alaska criminal cases without taking action. He said:

"I have not given a definite opinion that the statute of limitation has expired in all of these cases. It is not improbable that criminal action may be taken. This matter is still under investigation, in so far as it relates to the alleged combination of bidders in the coal proposition. The Hazey case, however, I think, is barred by the statute. I will continue my investigation of the others. It has been under way for some time and has never been discontinued."

Delegate Wickersham today declared that former Secretary of War Dickinson had been furnished with the same evidence concerning Alaskan frauds which was furnished Attorney General Wickersham in May, 1910, and that he never acknowledged receipt of the documents. He had this statement placed in the records of the hearing of the judiciary committee. Coupled with it was the further statement that Delegate Wickersham submitted to the Attorney General more than a year ago evidence of an alleged bribing of a United States district attorney by the Katalla company, one of the organizations in the Alaska syndicate. "I have evidence," declared Delegate Wickersham, "that $300,000 was used to bribe a deputy district attorney. That is the kind of matter I have been vainly trying to get this government to investigate and prosecute."

CLASHED FREQUENTLY.

Douglas and Jarvis Represented Opposing Interests in the Syndicate.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 15.—H. K. Douglas, formerly auditor of the Alaska Syndicate, and the late Captain D. H. Jarvis, whom he has accused in connection with coal contracts, were generally considered to represent opposing interests in the syndicate. Jarvis, a former officer in the revenue service, where he won a medal for heroism, was introduced to J. P. Morgan by Theodore Roosevelt and was regarded as Morgan's representative. Douglas was lined up with the Guggenheim interests.

The two clashed frequently. Following a railroad men's fight in Keystone Canon, and the trial of two of the syndicate men on the charge of murder, Douglas charged Jarvis with improper use of money in connection with the trial. Douglas later left the company but took with him to New York photographic copies of alleged vouchers for expenditures in the trial and some documents unfavorable to Jarvis.

The Guggenheim interest waxed strong in the syndicate, however, and Jarvis was pushed down from complete management to the treasureship of the Northwestern Fisheries Company, a subsidiary concern. He planned to resign from this, but it was sold to the Both Fisheries Company of Chicago and Jarvis was made president and put in charge of the Booth interests in the Northwest. When Jarvis committed suicide at his club June 22, he left a note saying "Tired and worn out." At that time his salary was $15,000 a year and his personal fortune was estimated at $400,000.

SMITH INQUIRY FINISHED.

Findings Against Chemist to be Reported to Secretary Wilson.

BOSTON, July 15.—An investigation of charges made against Dr. R. H. Smith, head of the local chemistry laboratory of the Department of Agriculture, was concluded this afternoon by Special Agent P. D. Cronin, sent from Washington by the committee of personnel of the department. Agent Cronin has conferred with Dr. Smith and the various members of his staff during his two days' stay here. He will make his report to Secretary Wilson at Washington.

The charges against the local chief were preferred by Joseph T. Lynch, an stenographer, who was recommended for dismissal by Dr. Smith for alleged insubordination. Dr. Smith declines to make any statement pending the decision of the Washington authorities.

The charges that Agent Cronin has been investigating were that Dr. Smith passed vouchers for material that the government paid for but did not receive that little attention is paid to the matter of leaves of absence, and that government materials are used for private purposes.

VERDICT UPHELD IN BAILEY SUIT.

Supreme Court Declares Exceptions Without Merit.

Case Remitted, With Directions to Enter Judgment.

(Special despatch to The News.)

PROVIDENCE, July 15.—A verdict of $5,000, awarded to Elizabeth E. Underwood, executrix under the will of William Bailey, late of the town of Middletown, was upheld by the supreme court in an opinion handed down by Justice Sweetland today. The exceptions of the defendant, the Old Colony Street Railway Company, were overruled and the case remitted to the superior court, with directions to enter judgment on the verdict. Justice Blodgett dissented from the opinion of the majority of the court.

The Underwood-Old Colony Street Railway Company case is the result of an accident in Middletown some time ago, in which Mr. Bailey, a man 85 years old, was knocked from a buggy in which he was driving, after being in collision with an electric car. He was badly injured, dying 15 days later. The first trial of the case caused unusual interest in Newport county, owing to the fact that it was charged by the defendant that one of the jurors was under the influence of liquor and a new trial was granted by the supreme court on that ground.

The case was tried again before Judge Brown and a jury, resulting in the above verdict. The defendant took numerous exceptions and the case finally reached the supreme court. The court now decides that the exceptions are without merit. The opinion is long and reviews the testimony and Judge Brown's rulings in considerable detail.

This order to quit work follows court proceedings by the Grand Trunk, asking for an injunction to prevent the building of the structures and the holding up of the permits to build. Work was stopped at noon.

WICKERSHAM ACCUSED.

Attorney General Charged With Abetting an Alaska Fraud.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Attorney General Wickersham was accused today of allowing the statute of limitations to run against agents of the Alaska syndicate who by perjury defrauded the government to the extent of $50,000, and the House committee on judiciary immediately decided to report favorably a resolution of inquiry. The Alaska syndicate was declared to be "an organized crime" and its members were named by Delegate Wickersham as J. Pierpont Morgan, the Guggenheims, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Jacob H. Schiff and Graves, the representative of the English syndicate and other English capitalists.

The charges made by the Alaskan delegate were considered in secret, and he startled the committee when, behind closed doors, he produced a copy of an affidavit relating to an alleged criminal act committed by Captain David H. Jarvis of the Alaska syndicate and John Bullock of the John J. Sesnor Coal Company of Nome.

Jarvis was formerly prominent in the revenue cutter service and won a Congressional medal by driving a herd of reindeer across the pathless wilds of Alaska, thousands of miles, and saving the lives of many New Bedford whalemen whose vessels had been crushed in the Arctic ice. He was strongly urged at one time by Theodore Roosevelt, as President, to become governor of Alaska, and when he declined the appointment Mr. Roosevelt wrote him a letter in which the executive said that the country was the loser by his refusal. Jarvis committed suicide in Seattle June 22, the day after the introduction of the Wickersham resolution was filed calling for production of the papers in the case.

Through connivance of these men it was charged that the government was defrauded on coal contracts and that evidence to that effect was permitted to remain unacted upon in the Attorney General's office for more than a year, until the statute of limitations expired last May.

The Attorney General declined to discuss the action of the committee. His friends intimated that the charges are old and that a certain phase of them is under investigation. They decline to indicate just what the phase is.

Delegate Wickersham furnished the committee with photographic copies of a letter by an attorney for the Alaska syndicate to Jarvis, admitting the expenditure of money to control government witnesses in the Haxey murder trial in 1908, whereby an agent of the Alaska syndicate was accused of murdering laborers employed by rival interests during the construction of a railroad in Alaska.

A photograph of an expense account for $1,133.40 for M. B. Morrisey, employed by the syndicate, it is alleged, to entertain government witnesses and jurymen in that connection, was also submitted to the committee. This evidence, Delegate Wickersham asserts, is likewise in the possession of the Attorney General.

M'NAMARAS OBTAIN DELAY.

Trial of Alleged Dynamiters Set for October 11 After Protest.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 14.—In the face of all their previous announcements that they were confident of their ability to show the innocence of the accused men, the counsel for the McNamara brothers, charged with complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times plant, which includes indictments in 19 counts for murder, fought vigorously today for a delay of several months in the assignment of a date for their trial, which was finally fixed for October 11.

Judge Bordwell first set October 10 for the opening of the trial, but on discovering that an election on state constitutional amendments would be held on that day, designated the following day.

The district attorney maintained that the trial should be begun by August 1, saying that delay would give witnesses he wished to subpoena an opportunity to leave the state. Clarence S. Darrow and other counsel for the accused labor leader and his brothers were opposed to having the trial set for any time before December 1, asserting that the evidence they wished to produce required a long period for preparation.

FOR FRIENDLIER RELATIONS.

Campaign of Popular Education May be Established With Japan.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The custodians of the $10,000,000 Carnegie Peace Foundation announced today a campaign of popular education to establish friendlier relations between the United States and Japan. The division of intercourse and education has arranged an exchange "to give to each people better knowledge of the other and to help build up a public opinion in both countries that will resist all attempts to arouse antagonism."

Under this plan Dr. Inazo Nitobe, president of the First Higher College of Tokio, will be brought here early in October. He will spend about six weeks each at Brown University, Columbia, Johns Hopkins and the Universities of Virginia, Illinois and Minnesota, lecturing on Japanese history and current problems. The following year a distinguished American will be sent to Japan for a similar service. The plan is to make this exchange permanent, representatives of each country visiting each other on alternate years. The committee says the Japanese government has heartily approved the undertaking.

ATWOOD FLIES TO TAFT.

Receives Medal from President After Trip Requiring Skill.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Harry N. Atwood, the Boston aviator, called today in his aeroplane upon President Taft at the White House. He was introduced to the President by Acting Secretary of War Oliver, and Mr. Taft on behalf of the Aero Club of Washington, presented to him a medal for his aerial voyage from Boston to Washington.

The feat of making a safe landing in the White House grounds is considered remarkable by aviation experts, for not only is the space on which he landed narrow, but the trees made it very difficult to navigate.

After the presentation of the medal Atwood made a remarkable ascension through the spray of the White House fountain and flew to the polo ground in Potomac Park.

In his remarks to the aviator, President Taft expressed his gratification in the presentation of the medal. "I hope it will be only one of a great many that will come to you in the future," he said, "and that they will come with as little injury and as little danger as you exhibited in flying down here to the White House grounds."

ELENA AND VAGRANT STILL WINNING.

In the last run of the Eastern Yacht Club, to Winter Harbor, Mount Desert, Friday, Morton F. Plant's Elena again led the fleet, defeating the Iroquois by 2½ minutes, corrected time, making the eighth victory of the season over the Iroquois in nine races. The Taormina won in the second division of schooners and Harold S. Vanderbilt's Vagrant again led the third division schooners, making an unbroken series of victories in the club runs. The Adventuress won in the first class for sloops.

CAN NO LONGER AFFORD TO EXPORT BEEF.

American beef packers must go to Argentine for their product, says J. Ogden Armour, if they wish to retain their hold upon the exportation of beef. The Chicago packer was asked what was meant by the American beef man's invasion of South America. "The United States can no longer afford to export beef," he continued, "for it is all needed to supply the home demand. This has been the condition for some time and it is more forcibly put to the American packer every day. There is a great demand in Germany and England for American packed meats and Argentine offers the simplest solution."

FUTURE OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

Despatches to Dun Indicate Dullness in Trade at This Season.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate the dullness in trade customary at this season of the year, but the future outlook is viewed with confidence, as abundant harvests are promised. Hot weather has had a deterrent effect on both wholesale and retail sales at Boston, the only activity being in seasonable lines of merchandise, and buying is limited to actual needs. Drygoods jobbing houses have had a quiet week, occupying most of the time in preparation of new fall lines. Trading in wool is extremely dull, while the leather market also reflects quietness.

Total bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States aggregate $2,701,327,527, a decrease of only 2.2 per cent as compared with the corresponding period last year.

SHOWS OLD-TIME FORM.

H. Chandler Egan of Exmoor to Meet Secket in Golf Match in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 15.—H. Chandler Egan of Exmoor, former national and Western amateur golf champion, showed some of his old-time form yesterday for the first time this year, by defeating Robert Gardner of Hinsdale, another former national champion, in the semi-final round of the Onwentsia invitation tournament, and as a result will meet Albert Secket of Riverside in the 36-hole final match today.

REGARDING LOSS OF LIVES.

Interstate Commerce Commission Receives Daily Report from Railroads.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The appalling total of human life exacted by American railroads is reflected in the fact that the Interstate Commerce Commission receives daily from responsible officers of interstate carriers, an average of 30 telegraphic reports of accidents involving the loss of one life or more. The reports are made in response to an order of the commission which became effective July 1. Generally the railroads are complying with it.

AS TO FITNESS OF OFFICERS.

Proposition That Department at Washington Should Judge Merit by Detailed Reports.

[Washington letter.]

Officers of the army, the navy and the marine corps are wondering whether the era of common sense in the conduct of the military departments of the government which has set in lately, will not be strong enough to do away with what they regard as the present ridiculous system of testing their physical fitness. The compulsory horseback and bicycle riding have given way to the test of long-distance walking, so many miles being required in so many hours at arbitrarily designated periods of time. A naval officer of distinction who occupies an important assignment, and who himself is in the pink of perfection physically and mentally at all times, has made the suggestion that a better plan than the one now in practice of testing the physical fitness of all officers would be for the government to assume from daily reports of an officer's performance of duty that he is physically fit unless there is reason to suppose that he is not when he could be subjected to an arbitrary test.

This officer's proposition is that the department at Washington should be kept posted as to every officer's fitness by detailed written reports from his superior officer of his physical as well as his mental condition and the kind of work that he is doing to demonstrate that he is at all times up to the mark. Any deviation from the required standard could be noted and then, if regarded as of sufficient importance, a special report could be made upon his fitness as demonstrated by a special test. In this way, it is thought, a much more practicable and more sensible basis for judging the physical and mental merits of officers would be found than the present arbitrary method of enforced walking.

Some of the military men in Washington, to whom the present mode of physical test has become obnoxious, have hit upon the happy plan of taking their "hikes" in the form of golf playing. They carry pedometers and play until they show the required number of miles. This form of official "hike" has become quite popular at the Chevy Chase Club, where the course, according to the playing card, measures 43-10 miles for the 18 holes. Adding the distance walked in going from a hole to the next driving tee, and the extra walking done in following the ball and looking for a lost one, the officers have found that they walk just short of 5½ miles in one round of the course.

In reply to the criticism that this form of walking is easier than the ordinary "hiking" down the highway because it is done on turf and with the distraction of competition, the reply is that this is more than made up by the extra amount of exercise required in the swinging of the clubs.

PERRY CENTENNIAL PLANS.

Providence Man Made Member of Executive Committee to Promote the Celebration.

Representative Harry Cutler of Providence, who is one of the Perry's Victory Centennial Commission from Rhode Island, has received notice from President General George H. Worthington of the interstate board of commissioners of his appointment as a member of the executive committee as well as the special committee on legislation promotion and publicity. The latter is to have charge of the adoption of ways and means in reference to future legislation, promote the attendance of organizations at the centennial celebration and have charge of methods of publicity.

The plans for the holding of the centennial and erecting a suitable memorial to the famous Rhode Islander whose name is synonymous with the "Battle of Lake Erie," are progressing. Several of the states directly interested have made appropriations of considerable amount and in others legislation is pending. The federal government has already appropriated $250,000 and President Taft has recently named Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, U. S. N. (retired), and General J. Warren Keifer of Ohio.

The state of Ohio has, up to date, appropriated $83,000; Pennsylvania has a bill for $100,000 awaiting the governor's signature; Michigan has taken no action, but assurances are given that it will do so at the next session of the legislature. In Illinois a bill for $80,000 has passed the house, but the senate adjourned before the bill was reached. Wisconsin has appropriated $50,000. No legislation has yet been taken regarding appropriations in New York, Kentucky or Minnesota.

The legislature of this state passed a bill appropriting $25,000, but the bill was one of those which fell beneath the veto of Governor Pothier and so will come before the General Assembly again at its next session.

At the last meeting of the executive committee a motion was adopted that it was the sense of the meeting that there should be embodied in any memorial or monument to be erected proper adjuncts for the welfare of humanity. A memorial building committee of three has been appointed to secure plans and drawings and a committee of five on finance to audit bills and accounts. The city of Cleveland has been selected as the headquarters of the interstate board.

The Ohio commissioners acting under the provisions of the act passed by the General Assembly of that state, have caused proceedings to be brought by the attorney general's department in the courts of Ottawa county, to obtain possession of the property included in the site approved by the Ohio commissioners at Put-in-Bay.

Out o' reach o' chicken hawks.
Somethin' in their eyes, or gut
Stung by wassups, like as not,
Fingers pinched, or gypsies nigh—
Anything that makes 'em cry
Sends 'em to the house from play—
First oddrotted thing they say

'Til she don't know where she's at Twixt her pans an' kittles and

Why not go an' ask your paw

Talks 'em quiet, purty nigh,
'Til she's interrupted by

Yit, for all her takin' on
'Bout their pesterin', blame-don,
When they went with Uncle Joe
Up t' see the circus show—
First an' only day she jest
Rallly had a chance t' rest!—
What 'd she do? She set an' sed,
Handkerchief jist wringin' wet;
"Give that quarter sction there"
She declared, "throw in the mare,

Jist to hear one youngun say:

Work That Tells.

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here In Newport.

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Newport. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Newport sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Mrs. S. E. Freeman, 52 Van Zandt avenue, Newport, R. I., says: "I still consider Doan's Kidney Pills a fine remedy and am glad to confirm the public testimonial I gave in 1908 in their praise. A relative was troubled a great deal by backache and there were other symptoms which left no doubt that his kidneys were disordered. He did not rest well and was stiff and lame upon arising in the morning. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, a supply was procured at Wright & Hay's Drug Store and they gave satisfactory results."

WARNING TO NATIONAL BANKS.

Examiners Will Overhaul Them Often Unless Directors Hold Meetings Frequently.

Directors of national banks who fail to hold meetings frequently and give other evidences of a lack of personal interest in the affairs of their banks will hereafter find a national bank examiner overhauling their institutions at least four times a year.

Orders were issued to all national bank examiners Friday to request banks in their districts to hold directors' meetings at least twice a month, to maintain a discount committee and an examining committee and to adopt a permanent system of approving loans and discounts. Those which refuse will be examined at least quarterly, a procedure adopted with banks which are considered unsafe.

FROZEN MILK.

Though experiments are being made in New Haven with frozen milk, the purpose in view is rather limited. The demand for milk varies, while the article is one of the most perishable of all commodities. If the surplus of one day could be frozen and kept till a few days later, when demand exceeded the supply, much waste would be averted and the trade and consumers would be equally benefited.

Whether milk would come out of freezing just the same as it went in can only be determined by experiment. The condensation of milk is not a very successful process. The condensed article keeps well enough, and reduced with water may contain all the necessary elements and serve the purposes of nutrition. Probably it is much better than fresh milk which isn't quite fresh enough, but it doesn't taste much like milk in its natural form, whether used alone or mixed with tea or coffee. If milk will thaw out into the same sort of beverage it was before it was solidified into a cake the fact would be interesting and valuable. [illegible]

Of course Dr. Wiley might prohibit it. Having cut off all chemical preservatives except those known to our ancestors, and thrown some suspicion upon them, he has attacked cold storage outside of rather narrow limits of time. Probably he would not object to storing milk in frozen blocks for a few days or even a few weeks, and there is no reason why anybody should try to carry milk over from one year to another.

Milk is most abundant and best in spring and summer, when the cows have the best fodder. If the methods by which artificial ice is made could be applied to spring and summer milk and the cakes thawed as required in winter, it looks as if it might be a good thing for the farmers and for the people in cities who buy milk. Of course we wish to know how palatable the thawed milk is, and we would need to find out whether Dr. Wiley would let us have it that way.

TO REFORM THE COMIC SUPPLEMENT.

The movement against the comic supplement has reached such a stage that a league has been formed for the improvement of that adjunct of so many Sunday newspapers. Some of these apparently have the idea that the object is the suppression of these supplements, while the league itself asserts that its effort is not to abolish but to improve them, to work for the cultivation of a taste for a better class of such publications and for the issue of something of a higher order than is now put forth by many papers. That this is a laudable purpose many will agree and that there is need of improvement in this connection few except those whose tastes are easily satisfied along this line will deny. That there are different kinds of these supplements those who are familiar with many newspapers are well aware, and some are not deserving of much criticism while others merit about all which can be said in denunciation. It is the elimination of the latter and the extension of the publication of the former which this league seeks to bring about.

The offensive comic supplement is an eyesore to those of cultivated tastes and an influence for evil with those who peruse it. The coloring is lurid, the pictures crudely drawn and the subject matter of a kind calculated to inspire in the children, and even in those of larger growth, who read it or have it explained to them ideals which are unworthy and positively injurious. In most cases pictures and text treat lightly of the relations of youth to older persons, even family connections are ridiculed and in other ways ideas are presented to the children which lead to a wrong view of life and the duties which devolve upon the human family in all its relations. These may seem to some small matters, but they are fundamental, and to have them impressed upon youthful minds in a wrong light is a great injury to the children and will result disastrously to the social life of future generations.

It is possible for a newspaper to print a comic supplement which will be really funny and yet not disrespectful or injurious in its tone, and will be a delight to the eye and a source of artistic enjoyment, rather than an offense to the sense of beauty and destructive to any ideals of art which may have been taught or naturally acquired. Such supplements are issued and they should be more numerous and take the place of those which are crude and offensive in their character. They cost more, perhaps, but that should not deter publishers from using them, for if they succeed in cultivating a taste for better things in the comic supplement line they will probably have more readers. It is the object of the league to create among newspaper publishers on the one hand a desire to put better material before their patrons, and on the other to increase among the readers of these supplements a demand for something better. It is rather a reflection upon the publishers that it is expected that more rapid progress will be made in the second particular than in the first and that the public demand will lead and the compliance of the publishers with that demand will follow.

At present the comic supplement to which exception is taken is not really comic. In it buffoonery is presented rather than humor. There is little that is natural about it, but everything is exaggerated. The coloring is too loud, the drawing too bold, the ideas expressed in the pictures too forced. It is all unnatural, while art is always natural and so is humor. A real comic supplement would be quite different from the average sheet now issued under that designation, but it would be quite as easy to print one as to create the present ridiculous and offensive product of false ideas as to humor and art. It is to be hoped that the league will be successful in its effort to secure the substitution of a sheet which is really comic and also artistic for the publication now issued, which involves both the newspaper profession and the public in disgrace that the former is willing to offer it and the latter is ready to buy it.

HIGH SCHOOLS AND FITTING SCHOOLS.

Many years ago, particularly in this part of the country, the high schools did little of the preparing of boys for college. Most of that was done by privately endowed academies, of which three of the most conspicuous were the two Phillips and Williston Seminary, though there were and still are scores of others. In recent years the high schools have been doing more and more of this, but have encountered a difficulty. They are supported by taxation; the greater part of the community is not collegiate and demands "practical" education. The colleges demand [illegible] course or a course slightly based upon the classics, Greek being largely replaced by a modern language and some of the mathematics by what is called sociology or economics.

The high schools have been trying to give the same course of instruction to all their pupils and to make it fit for college, but public sentiment and new fashions in education have compelled them to introduce a good deal of domestic science and manual training for which colleges do not ask and they have been crowding the young people. Now a committee of the National Education Association demands that instead of subordinating the high school to the college, as in past years, the college shall be subordinated to the high school; out of 15 "units," to compose a preparation for college, four shall be any old thing which the high schools find it advantageous to give the young people. It will be woodworking for boys and cooking and sewing for girls, and perhaps physical training for both.

The scheme is supported by strong arguments. One is that many of the high school pupils do not know whether they are going to college till near the end of their course. After all, is this number very large, and could not these pupils make up in a year or two some of the things they had skipped because they did not suppose they were going to college? It looks to the outsider as if there should be one course for young people going to college and another for those who are not.

The proposed new charter for New York city has finally been reported to the legislature by the committee which has been considering it for many weeks, but it probably will not be passed at the present session. It largely increases the power of the mayor and board of aldermen, curtails that of the comptroller, who holds the purse strings, and creates seven new departments, each of which will provide good offices for the political party in control. Tammany is favorable to the proposed charter and is expected to profit materially by the change. As it dominates both branches of the legislature the charter will undoubtedly be passed at a later session, possibly in the autumn. Tammany now has a chance for which it has been waiting for years, and evidently does not propose to let the opportunity slip without taking advantage of it.

The attempt to oust Dr. Wiley from his position in charge of the enforcement of the pure food and drug law has stirred up a hornet's nest in Washington. It is more and more evident that there is something behind the technical charges and there is a general belief that that something is fomented by the manufacturers of patent medicines and fraud concoctions, because the enforcement of the law is putting a stop to the sale of their wares. If Dr. Wiley has done this, he should be honored, not removed from office.

The failure of the New York Senate to pass the bill repealing the anti-race track gambling laws adopted under Governor Hughes's administration is believed to have sounded the death knell of racing in the state. The officials of the Saratoga Association declare that there will be no racing there this, next or any other year as long as the directors are made liable for any betting at the tracks, as the present law provides. This, with the closing of its famous gambling houses, will mean that the old Saratoga will soon be a thing of the past. It has now only its water spas, and these are not a strong attraction.

War begins next week. It will not be actual hostilities, but will be carried on by the battleships and torpedo boats as if the two groups were enemies. When the war manoeuvres are ended, we may know, perhaps, whether Long Island sound and Narragansett bay are safe from the attack of a real foe.

The end of the extra session of Congress is in sight, as the agreement to vote on pending measures on certain dates practically fixes the time of adjournment. The members will not stay in sweltering Washington long after these matters are determined.

Mark Twain's humor was not only wholesome and enjoyable, but was worth a good deal to the author from a material standpoint. His estate has been appraised at $471,136, nearly all of which was made from the sale of books and copyrights.

Now Attorney General Wickersham is likely to be investigated. Apparently no one is exempt from the scrutiny of Congressional committees.

The latest Washington scandal in official life seems to be a case of Wickersham vs. Wickersham. What's in a name anyway?

Lo, the conquering heroes come—from Atlantic City.

WHY KEEP ON ROCKING THE BOAT?

[Chicago Inter-Ocean, Rep.]

All signs point to the ultimate passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill. The President is resolved upon it. He feels that he must have it for his campaign issue in 1912. And the President probably has friends enough, and influence enough in Congress, finally to get what he is set upon, and what proposes no overthrow of the constitution or subversion of the republic, but merely a new arrangement of tariff taxes.

The Democracy have brought in their free list and their tariff reform bills. They are entitled to all the credit or discredit that may accrue to them for these measures. The Republicans are equally entitled to all the credit or discredit that may accrue to them for stopping these measures.

The record is made up between the parties. The issue for 1912 is joined. Why not give now that formal completion to the record which Mr. TAFT declares to go home and leave the case to the judgment of the people?

Why should Congress then keep on rocking the boat? This is a very large country. Its prosperity is necessarily always more or less unstable because of the enormous volume and complexity of its people's industrial, commercial and agricultural interests.

This people's commercial, industrial and agricultural interests are swaying to and fro. Why persist in swaying them even more violently? Why keep on rocking the boat just for the sake of rocking the boat? Why not just pass the reciprocity bill and adjourn?

ECONOMY.

[Collier's.]

At graduation exercises last month, in schools for young women and girls, a good deal of talk was made about the economy with which various students had made their dresses. That is as satisfactory graduation news as could have been sent out. The more economy becomes a source of pride in our general life, and luxury and carelessness become matters of apology, the sounder will be the social spirit of our country. Mr. Justice Holmes, in a beautifully eloquent address at the Harvard Commencement this year, said: "We were all poor; at least we lived as if we were. I think that training is much fitter to make a man than for a youth to have at 20 all the luxuries of life poured into a trough for him."

Governor and Mrs. Pothier at the Celebration of the Fall of the Bastile.

Drowned in Mashapaug Pond—Another Small Pox Case—One More Heat Death.

The national day of the French, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille, was observed for the first time by the Frenchmen and Frenchwomen of Rhode Island Friday, with a picnic in the afternoon and a reception and banquet at night. The climax of the celebration came when, after Governor Pothier had concluded his address, scores of men and women escorted him to his automobile at the door of Slocum's Pawtuxet Cove house. The compatriots of Mrs. Pothier surrounded the machine and gave repeated cheers in her honor. Then as the car was about to start on its return journey to Woonsocket, some one started to sing the "Marseillaise." In a moment Mrs. Pothier was standing erect in the automobile, with hands waving in rhythm with the music, she seemed as if she were the leader of a chorus which echoed and re-echoed down the Pawtuxet cove. Mrs. Pothier was the guest of her compatriots and shared with her husband the honors of the occasion. Governor Pothier delivered an eloquent address which drew repeated and enthusiastic applause. He spoke not only as the governor of Rhode Island, but also as the representative of the French-Canadian people. He recited the history of the struggles waged by his compatriots for the preservation of their language and traditions and in a stirring peroration asserted that, while the French-Canadians of Canada respect the flag of Great Britain and have given their lives in its defense, yet they worship the tricolor of France and love it with a love unequalled anywhere else on earth.

David Simpson, an electrician employed at the Gorham Manufacturing Company's plant in Elmwood, was drowned in Mashapaug pond early Friday evening. Simpson, with Harry Chaffee, also employed at Gorham's went bathing. Simpson could swim a little while Chaffee was more expert. The latter swam off by himself a short distance, when he heard a cry from the spot where he had left Simpson and saw that his friend was in difficulty. Chaffee hastened back to the spot, but Simpson had gone down for the third time before he reached the place. Without hesitation Chaffee dived and caught the man under water, bringing him to the surface. Exhausted by his exertions he had difficulty in bringing Simpson to the shore. Help was called from near-by houses and efforts were made to resuscitate the man, but without success. Simpson was 27 years old and had been married about six months. With his wife he returned Friday from his vacation.

George B. Hazard, a Providence candy manufacturer, is the third person in that city to be stricken with small pox in the last few weeks. It was discovered Friday that he is suffering from a mild attack of the disease, and after an investigation of the case by the health department he was removed to the Field's Point ward of the Providence City Hospital for treatment and isolation. Mr. Hazard had been living in an apartment house on Westminster street, and when the nature of his illness was learned the house was immediately disinfected. Further steps to prevent the spreading of the disease will be taken. The local health department has notified those of Warwick, Westerly and Charlestown, because Mr. Hazard came in contact with people in those towns and may have exposed them to the malady. His own family is away for the summer, and consequently is in no danger of infection. Mr. Hazard, who is about 45 years old, was taken sick last Friday, but owing to the peculiarity of the disease it was not until Friday morning that his condition became sufficiently developed to make it certain that the case was one of small pox. Dr. Chapin, superintendent of health, was immediately notified, and after obtaining the history of the case ordered the patient's removal. His case is said to be a mild one.

The sixtieth death from heat within a fortnight in Rhode Island was reported Friday, the victim being Louis Roberts, who was found dead Thursday in his room at a lodging house. Roberts had been suffering several hours before he succumbed. Thursday morning he did not feel well and during the afternoon was found dead. Medical Examiner Longfellow ascribed death as due to the excessive heat. The case was not reported to the authorities, however, until Friday.

Rev. W. W. Deckard, pastor of the Arlington Baptist Church, has been given the degree of doctor of divinity by Rio Grande College of Ohio, of which he was a graduate in 1894. A letter received from the president of the college says that "the faculty and trustees were unanimous in conferring upon you the degree of doctor of divinity and feel that they have honored themselves." Rev. Mr. Deckard also holds degrees of B. D. and B. A. from Hillsdale College, Michigan, of B. S. from Rio Grande College, and of A. M., Brown University, 1905. He has completed his class work for Ph. D. at Brown.

Charles H. Burrill, for years a resident of Providence, and one of the few negro printers and publishers of the United States, died this week at his home in Brooklyn. He was born in Providence in 1843 and at the age of 16 was apprenticed to A. Crawford Greene & Sons, printers, by whom he was employed for 22 years, ultimately becoming assistant foreman of the plant. Later he was connected with the publication of various periodicals. Mr. Burrill is said to have claimed descent from an Indian squaw by the name of Patience Prophet who, it was alleged, was one of those who sold the Providence Plantations to Roger Williams. As the deeds of sale to Roger Williams were signed simply by the two Indian chiefs who held title to this entire section of the country, and as in those early days the Indian squaws had no names, this supposed ancestor was probably a myth. Mr. Burrill was at one time a member of the Burnside National Guards, one of the local negro companies which finally was merged into what was known as the First Separate Company. He was commissioned first lieutenant and paymaster of the Burnside Guards June 1, 1874, and served to June 22, 1875, when he received his discharge.

ON SHIPBOARD FOR A WEEK.

Naval Reserves, Twenty-Seven Strong, Sail on Michigan and Aileen.

Disposition of the Militia of the Different States and Outline of the Work.

The Second division, Rhode Island Naval Militia, better known as the Newport Naval Reserves, left their armory this morning for a week's tour of duty. One officer and 26 men reported, while 40 were expected up to the last minute. A large portion of the men expected and not going are said to be employed at the Torpedo Station. The men were taken in one of Champlin's launches to battleship Michigan, in the outer harbor, while those from the Bristol, Providence and East Providence divisions came down on the state's gunboat Aileen. A part of the Rhode Island men will be retained on board the gunboat, Newport's quota on this vessel this year is but six men. The Michigan goes from here for Provincetown to join the other battleships, while the Aileen sails for Gardiner's Bay to join the fleet of state warships gathering there.

The Michigan sailed at 1:45 P. M. and will join the fleet of battleships during the night. While she was here a number of her men were given liberty to make room for the Rhode Island boys.

The Portland and Rockland divisions of Maine left Portland on battleship Nebraska this morning and the four divisions of the Connecticut battalion embarked on the Connecticut at New Haven. This is the first time in nine years that the Connecticut boys have joined in the general tour of duty. The New York divisions were taken on battleships Iowa, Mississippi and Maine, while the naval militia of Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia are also to be in the game to be played. It is estimated that there will be 2,500 officers and men from the several states.

In addition to the Aileen, the other naval militia boats which will gather at the rendezvous at Gardiner's bay will be the Chicago, Massachusetts militia; Machias, Connecticut militia; Gloucester, New York militia; Tonopah, New Jersey militia; Dixie, Pennsylvania militia; Isla de Cuba, Maryland militia, and Ozark, District of Columbia militia.

Fleet drills and other exercises will be carried on by the militia vessels from July 17 to 21, inclusive, and some time between the nineteenth and twenty-first a naval bombardment will occur, whether at day or during the night depends upon Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commanding the battleship fleet who will lead the attacking forces on battleship Connecticut, his flagship.

The 13 torpedo craft will form a cordon from Gay Head, at the westerly end of Martha's Vineyard, to Montauk, the easterly extremity of Long Island. Eight of the torpedo craft will patrol 30 miles offshore between Gay Head and Montauk, three more between Montauk and Block Island, another between Block Island and Point Judith and the remaining craft will be with the smaller naval militia craft, including the Aileen, near the mouth of Long Island sound near Fisher's Island.

Captain Archibald H. Davis, U. S. N. will have command of the entire naval militia or coast defense fleet. He was recently appointed officer in charge of naval militia affairs, succeeding Captain Charles C. Marsh, U. S. N., who has commanded in former years, but is now assigned to sea duty.

ANNOUNCED FROM LONDON.

Reported Engagement of Miss Mildred Sherman to Lord Camoys Denied Here.

Little else was talked about at the Casino today than the announcement from London of the reported engagement of Miss Mildred Sherman, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Watts Sherman, to Mr. Ralph Julian Stonor, Lord Camoys, of England. Lord Camoys was one of the ushers at the marriage of Miss Vivien Gould to Lord Decies early in the spring, where he became acquainted with Miss Sherman. The report from London also stated that Lord Camoys is to leave England shortly to visit the Shermans at their Newport home.

JAMESTOWN.

(Regular correspondence of The News.)

The ferry company has had a walk on the south side of its dock covered with new plank. At the upper end it has been raised to avoid the bad drop from the street. The Improvement Society is co-operating with the ferry officials to better the condition of this corner and today has a force of men laying a concrete sidewalk on an easy grade from that already along the water front, to connect with the new plank walk.

The firing of the large guns at the fort Thursday and the mortars Friday did not cause such inconvenience and damage about the island as has been the case when they have been fired with service charges at other times.

With practically all the cottages full and a large number at all the hotels, Jamestown is having a good season, with the prospects of an unusually fine August.

The large tent on the government property at the south ferry, in which the boats of Narragansett Pier is housed on his dirigible balloon Zodiac, attracts much attention from the visitors of the west ferry.

A division of the torpedo boat destroyer fleet, consisting of six boats, is moored off the east shore of the island.

YACHT NOTES.

Dr. Beck's little catboat Mist has gone into commission for the season at Williams & Manchester's yard.

Master Willie H. Vanderbilt has refitted his little sloop Caprice II, after the New York 30-footer which he has had for several years. She was ready to go into commission at the shipyard this afternoon.

Mr. Lippincott of Jamestown has overhauled and put his sloop Moslem in commission. Dr. Wilcox, also of Jamestown, has had his launch put in commission at the shipyard for the season.

Mr. Timmons's yawl Gannet was hauled out this afternoon.

STREET SWEEPER KNOCKED DOWN.

This morning Daniel Harrington, who is one of the sweepers on Thames street, below the postoffice, was knocked down by a passing vehicle. He had stepped one side for a bicycle, and in doing so came in the way of a light trap, which struck him on the forehead, knocking him out temporarily. He was accompanied to his home near by, but refused to stay there, as the effects of the blow were not lasting. Shortly afterward he was found quietly going on with his work, just as though nothing had happened.

WORKED IN NEWPORT.

Frank Zinn, Employed at the Army and Navy, Would-Be Saunderstown Suicide, Will Recover.

It was Frank Leon Zinn of New York, in the employ of the Keystone Fireproofing Company and foreman on that portion of the work at the new Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association building, who attempted suicide at Saunderstown Friday. Surgeons Hines and Jones of the Second District, Rhode Island National Guard, and Dr. Fearney of Providence, who was spending the day at the forts, responded to the call at Fort Greble for medical assistance and succeeded in extracting the bullet from the man's neck. He was later taken in an automobile to the R. I. Hospital for treatment and will recover.

Zinn shot himself back of the ear and the bullet followed around the outside of the skull and then imbedded itself in the fleshy part of the back of the neck. He has not been right for perhaps two weeks and his work has been going slow. He has attempted to give a hand himself to speed it along, but was too shaky. Friday morning he appeared at the job, apparently in improved condition, and ordered stock. During the forenoon he went off and the next heard of him was that he had shot himself in the woods just beyond the Saunderstown Baptist Church, where he had followed a short-cut path and was found later by a woman.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. W. J. Barnett is guest of Mr. F. M. Davies at the Thaw cottage.

—Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Dows are guests of Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbilt at "Harbourview."

—Mr. John Clinton Gray, Jr., is guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burdon at "Fairlawn."

—Mr. Frederick H. Allen of Pelham Manor, N. Y., has joined Mrs. Allen at "Chateau-sur-Mer."

—Steamer New Hampshire will make an excursion to this city from New Bedford Sunday, arriving at 11:30 and leaving at 6.

—Mr. Fred Harty of the Boston Mackerel Company has finished his season there and with Mrs. Harty has gone home.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Waters, formerly of this city, and family are here to spend their vacation with relatives on Edgar court.

—Mr. and Mrs. William S. Patten returned to the Thayer cottage this morning from Lancaster, where they went to attend the Thayer-Winthrop wedding.

—Dr. Arthur W. Gash, Mr. Robert Gash, Jr., and Mr. Howard Radford are touring along the north shore of Massachusetts and in southern New Hampshire.

—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Frances McGowan, wife of P. F. McGowan, took place at St. Ann's Church in New York today. Several friends were present from Newport.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Laurens Van Alen, who have been in London for the coronation and returned on the Lusitania, arrived Friday evening at their cottage on Bellevue avenue.

—At the police station this morning a man charged with drunkenness pleaded not guilty and has his case continued to July 21. Another, for sleeping out, was placed on probation.

—Miss Anna L. Kirby has gone to Cambridge, Mass., to spend her vacation with relatives. She was accompanied by Mr. Lawrence Sullivan, who has been her guest for the past month.

—Physical Director Philip H. Slocum of the Young Men's Christian Association is spending his vacation at the Harvard summer school, taking a special course in the physical department.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wainwright have arrived at their Rhode Island home, "Arderaig," West Island, for the season and have as guests Mrs. William M. Nelson of Baltimore and Miss Mary Coats of Philadelphia.

—The will of Mrs. Edith B. Pomeroy has been admitted to probate in the probate court and letters testamentary have been issued to Mary van Cutsen of London and Greta B. Pomeroy of New York, with William Paine Sheffield as agent in Rhode Island.

—This is St. Swithin's day, a day when, according to an old English legend, if it rains it means 40 days of rainy weather. It must be agreed, notwithstanding the fact that every one needs rain, that it looks exceedingly dry for the next 40 days, judging by the weather of today.

—Mr. S. Melville Hammett who has been in town on a short visit to relatives had just returned from a tour of the Pacific coast, including Vancouver, and while there had billed another company for the coming season. On his arrival east it was decided to send him out again with the new company, so his stay in this vicinity will be short.

—Probably the most interesting pictures in town today are on exhibition at the Old City Hall Novelty store. They are two group pictures of the Atlantic City Club, and are good ones. It requires no other evidence to show that Senator Murphy stayed with the boys to the finish. It is surprising what a good looking set of sailors the members of the club made.

—The weather seemed to have taken another move toward the tropics this morning. It was cool at the start, being 63 at 5 a. m., but gradually worked upward and was 75 at 8, 76 at noon and 77 at 2:30. This is a trifle below Friday's figures, though it promised this morning to be hotter. A cooling southwest breeze prevails.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Meredith of Wilmington, Del., Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Edd of Manchester, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nason of Dallas, Me., and Mrs. R. L. Clark of New York, Lieutenant R. P. McCullough, U. S. N., J. C. Henderson of Washington, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Julius F. Heeting, U. S. N., Rev. P. H. Coad of Baltimore and C. M. McConnell of Indianapolis are registered at the Perry House.

—Recent registers at the Casino include Isaac H. Clothier, Charles A. Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Dows, George L. Scott, Richard Peters, P. W. Livermore, R. Lawrence, Theodore M. Davis, John Clinton Gray, Jr., Lawrence L. Gillespie, William S. Patten, E. T. Constein, Frederic H. Allen, Richard Lounsbury, A. L. Sternas, Hendrick C. Anderson, Henry H. Ward, W. J. Bartnett and Seymore Johnson.

and the firing of a few signal guns and rockets, but there will be no bombardment with blank charges, such as Newport has known.

The program for the week is about completed and the men appear to have given a good account of themselves, but as in previous years there is a suggestion all along the line that the tour of duty should be two weeks instead of one, and it will undoubtedly come to that.

They will be routed out bright and early Sunday morning for breakfast, and then break camp to embark for home. At Fort Wetherill Chaplain Reilly will hold a field mass shortly after reveille and in both camps the grounds will be cleared of troops and equipage by noon. The former will be transported to Providence as they came, while the latter will be taken to Quonset point and stored in the state houses until another year, details being sent with the material.

Again comes up the suggestion that the state would save money and the work of the troops would be promoted if the state would erect storehouses and keep its camp equipage on or near the government reservations, and thus save the annual hauling. It is represented that the stores would be fully as available for use in other parts of the state, if there came a call, at the forts as at the out-of-the-way storehouses at the point.

While the Second District troops were having service practice at Fort Greble Friday the First District boys stationed there had an idle day. The two companies of that district who have been located at Fort Getty were not disposed to lie around and had a little skirmish practice over the country down by Beavertail.

The Second District troops were commended by the regular officers for their work at the guns during the service practice, but encountered delays, it being found that the No. 1 guns in both Battery Hale and Battery Mitchell were not in proper condition. At the former the gun was found to be out of alignment and at the latter it did not function properly.

The medical officers and the hospital corps have had the usual work during the week, but all the men requiring medical attention have had troubles of a slight nature only. In spite of the heat there has been no suffering from the usual summer troubles. There have been some cuts and bruises, but on the whole the duty of the medical corps has been light, the sanitary conditions in the various camps being excellent.

The first real call of a serious nature came Friday, and that from outside the regular line of duty for the corps. When the attempted suicide at Saunderstown was reported three surgeons were hastened to the scene and their prompt response and active work gave the man a chance for life which he probably would not have had if they had not been at hand.

Things have been rather disagreeable for would-be visitors to the camp at Fort Greble. People have come from Providence expecting to be able to go to the fort, and have learned at the dock at Saunderstown that the ferry no longer touches. They have either sat on the dock and looked across the waters to the fort or have boarded the ferryboat and gone by Fort Greble. One woman with four children came down one day, but fared no better than the rest. Friday a soldier had a small launch running and took a few visitors to and from the fort.

DESIRES A NEW YORK PIER.

Rhinelander Trustees Ordered to Appear in New England Navigation Company Lease Case.

Alice K. Rhinelander and other beneficiaries under the will of Frederic W. Rhinelander are directed by Justice Gavegan of the New York supreme court to show cause September 6 why the Rhinelander trustees should not be authorized to execute a lease of the Murray street pier, in New York and one half of the bulkhead intervening between that and the Park place pier to the New England Navigation Company, for a term of 20 years from May, 1911, at a yearly rental of $56,000.

NEW FISH ARRIVALS.

There was something in the way of fish today. One boat was in with 57 swordfish, one with 38 and one with 21. All went to the cold storage. Friday a boat was in with 32 swordfish, of which 21 were caught in one day. There must have been something doing that day. The Winona, of the Sakonnet River Oyster Company, was in with six barrels of little mackerel and six of butterfish, the first caught since the scup season. The butterfish arrivals look good. E. N. Lawton had a horse mackerel, and one shark was among the "also rans" in the arrivals.

The visitors will number between 350 and 400 and will be accompanied by their families. Captain J. B. Crothers is president of the organization and Captain Coskill secretary. The Warwick is due at 12:30 and after the feast at the beach carriages will be taken, affording a sight of the city.

PLAYGROUND POLICE.

Organized Among the Mary Street Boys to Assist in Keeping Order.

Y. M. C. A. Camp Team Beats the Basin at Base Ball—Lenthal Defeats Cranston.

At the Mary Street playground Superintendent Chase has effected an organization among the attendants and the plan is succeeding well, the object being to enlist the co-operation of the boys in preserving a proper spirit and behaviour during the hours of play there. The officers are as follows:

Chief of Police—Jeremiah Grady.
Captain—Robert F. Gladding.
Sergeant—James Dorell.
Patrolmen—David Gallagher, George Flynn, Douglass Gaines, Herman Weiner.
Park Commissioner—Hollan Mackey.
Caretaker—Francis Grady.

There have already been two arrests for swearing, which is a misdemeanor under the playground regulations. The penalty is expulsion from the grounds for a day or more. The boys have been supplied with badges which indicate their official capacity on the grounds.

At the Basin Friday afternoon the Young Men's Christian Association camp team defeated the Basin boys at base ball by a score of 9 to 8. There was a good attendance and plenty of excitement at times. Some of the features were the hard hitting of J. Sullivan, who made a home run and would have made a second had he not slipped on the way from third; the all-round playing of Coggeshall and Weaver and three-baggers by Cooper and Dennis-ton. The Basin boys were a little weak at the bat, but gave a creditable exhibition in the field. Stanley Ward, who has been coaching them, had not expected them to play as well as they did, in view of the hot weather, which has prevented regular practice. There will be another game Tuesday. The line-up of the teams:

Basin—Whalen, p.; Sullivan, c.; Preece, 1b.; Weaver, 3b.; Coggeshall, 2b.; Sullivan, rf.; Brooks, lf.; Beattie, cf.; Integlia, ss.

In the playground base ball league Friday Lenthal defeated Cranston on the former's ground by a score of 6 to 5. Lenthal gained the lead at the start, on two singles, a pass and an error. Two squeeze plays worked by Lenthal in the ninth inning, which turned the victory for that side, were features. Carroll for Lenthal made an unassisted double play. Fredericks, A. Carroll and Walsh were conspicuous by their good work. The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Lenthal	2	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	1	—6
Lenthal	2	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	1	—6

Batteries—Harrington and Downes for Lenthal; Edward and Cottrell for Cranston.

DEMOCRATS STICK TO TEXT.

They Must Maintain the Bars Against General Legislation.

Should Pure Food Law be Amended a Long Debate on Pension Bill Might Follow.

[Washington correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The House Democrats cannot let down the bars for the passage of any general legislation which is pressing because of the insistence that other measures must be considered which the leaders desire to postpone.

Following the recommendations of President Taft, there is a general desire to amend the pure food law so as to meet the recent Supreme Court decision, but friends of other measures will take advantage of any deviation from the regular program to press forward bills they want considered. The dollar a day pension bill is one which gives great concern and is opposed by Southern Democrats. If it should be given a preference the Southern men would insist that war claims bills should be considered, and then there is also a strong labor element elected last fall which is pressing for labor legislation.

"If we ever let down the bars," said one of the leaders, "we will be here until December."

Those who have charge of legislation see signs of a break in the Senate. It has become well understood that nothing in the way of tariff legislation except the reciprocity bill is to pass. As soon as a vote can be had on that measure it will be very difficult to keep a quorum here. At least it is evident that a quorum will not stay and listen to a moot discussion of the tariff. Congress will be forced to adjourn because the members will not stay here playing at legislation.

Last winter Congressman Hobson vociferated in Congress and later on the lecture platform about the danger of this country from a foreign foe. General Leonard Wood and military experts not connected with the army pointed out that the army was well nigh useless and much was needed to make it effective.

Since then we have had the largest battleship at a coronation, and General Wood has announced that the forts protecting New York are impassable to a foreign fleet. So we can get through the hectic spell without adding the fear of immediate national destruction to our list of worries. Incidentally other forts are as strong as those which protect New York.

Former Senator James B. Henderson, whose services ended more than 40 years ago, has an idea that it would be a good thing if some one would invent a method of storing the heat of summer and using it in winter. He thinks it would be better than talking tariff or any of the other questions which agitate the public mind. "Then we could be rid of this row about conservation which fills the time between sessions of Congress," he said.

While it is interesting to note that Roosevelt and Taft disagree as to arbitration and what may be submitted to arbitration, we must not forget that Taft has the last chance on the subject. Whatever he says about it must go into the treaty. The Senate will have an opportunity to pass upon it, still even then Taft is more powerful in the Senate than Roosevelt. Roosevelt may have a following among the people, but figure talk is more popular now that anything that might lead to war.

And now Senator Swanson has added a lot more facts and figures showing why attention should be given to the construction of roads in this country. The Virginia Senator has supplemented the speeches of other Senators and shown that the farmers of the country pay a vast tribute every year on account of bad roads.

"Mud tax" he has named it, and the name is likely to stick until Congress takes hold of the good roads movement. Swanson proposes that the government shall improve the roads used as rural routes. That gets around any constitutional problem. If good roads appropriations ever begin they will soon far exceed the amount spent on rivers and harbors and public buildings, but it is claimed more people will be benefited.

A brave man is Dr. Harvey W. Wiley. He did not fear to tackle the pure food problem with all the opposition it engendered, and now he has boldly assailed Milady Nicotine. Wiley is 64 years old, and he will live long, it is believed, but it is doubtful if he will live to see a dent made in the tobacco business. Wiley improved foods by resorting to legislation, but he cannot expect to get legislation helping to eliminate the tobacco habit.

Arthur W. Dunn.

OPPOSES LA FOLLETTE BILL.

Senator Lippitt Says It Would Cut Wages of Cotton Operatives and Wipe Out Profits.

A Washington despatch quotes recent remarks by Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island on the cotton and woolen question. "It would cut the wages of the cotton operatives of New England and the South 33 per cent, and wipe out all profits in the cotton business," is his terse characterization of the La Follette cotton bill. Senator Lippitt, a cotton manufacturer all his life, is recognized in the Senate as the leading authority on that industry, and formed the centre of an interested group in the lobby while Senators exchanged views.

"Let us see how the La Follette program would work out in practice," continued Senator Lippitt. "The Wisconsin Senator estimates that his bill would save to the consumers about $160,000,000 a year through the reduction of the cotton duties by an average of 26 per cent. The annual cotton production is about $650,000,000.

"Granting for the sake of argument that the manufacturers make an average profit of 10 per cent—which is excessive—only two items in cotton manufacturing are capable of reduction, profits and wages. On the basis just quoted, the manufacturer would sacrifice $65,000,000 and that would leave the operative to contribute $101,000,000. This would be the present of the New England cotton operatives more than $10,000,000 a year, to the Wisconsin farmers in case the La Follette bill should go through.

"But let us carry the figures a little further," continued Senator Lippitt. "Since the Wilson tariff act was superseded by the Dingley law, the wages of the cotton workers have been increased about 52½ per cent. The labor cost of cotton manufacturing is, roughly speaking, about 50 per cent. On the basis of our production, therefore, we pay wages of $325,000,000 annually in the cotton mills of the North and South, and as I have just shown, the operative under the La Follette bill would contribute more than one hundred millions a year, or about one-third of the wages paid him. In other words, according to the La Follette plan, wages would go back to where they were in 1895 if the La Follette rates were approved by Congress.

"Mr. La Follette estimates that his bill would cost the government about $30,000,000 a year in loss of revenue. He is altogether too modest. His bill would cost the government nothing in loss of revenue. He estimates a reduction of $160,000,000, but as a matter of fact the imports of cotton under his bill would be nearer four hundred to five hundred millions. He would not decrease revenue by his bill; he would increase it by closing every cotton mill in the country."

MARS WILL RECOVER.

Noted Aviator Suffering from a Slight Fracture of the Skull.

ERIE, Pa., July 15.—J. C. (Bud) Mars, the aviator hurt in a fall with his aeroplane yesterday, will recover, and will be able to leave the hospital in about ten days. This announcement was made by the attending physicians after further examination of the injured man today. Mars's injuries are not nearly so severe as at first reported. He has a slight fracture of the skull, which is not serious, but no other bone are broken, and beyond a slight hemorrhage of the lungs, which was stopped this morning, there are apparently no internal injuries. Because of the accident to Mars's machine the aviation meet had been called off.

Mars lost control of his machine and fell from a height of several hundred feet. His wife witnessed the accident and was so badly affected by the shock that her condition is critical.

Mars has to his credit a record of several hundred successful flights, many of which were made on the other side of the world, and was regarded as one of the most accomplished of all the airmen. He had made one successful flight and was in the air for the second time when the accident occurred. Several thousand spectators were watching him. He circled the field a number of times at a height of several hundred feet.

Suddenly the machine made a dip downward and Mars was seen to jerk at something in an effort to regain control of it. It was a futile attempt, however, and an instant later the biplane struck the ground. The machine was completely wrecked and Mars lay under it. He was covered with blood, and at first it was believed he was dead.

Mars has many daring feats of the air to his credit, has appeared in every aviation centre in the United States, and is the first American aviator, if not the only one of any nationality, to have made a tour of the world. He left San Francisco in December and returned to New York last month laden with trophies and a log book of over 250 successful flights in the Orient. He flew in Honolulu, Manila, Sumatra, Japan, Java, Korea, Siberia, Russia and other places and on one occasion had a royal passenger, the King of Siam, on a 12-mile flight.

END OF SUCCESSFUL CRUISE.

Eastern Yacht Club Fleet Favored With Fine Weather.

WINTER HARBOR, Maine, July 15.—One of the most successful cruises of the fleet of the Eastern Yacht Club along the wooded, rock-bound shores of the coast of Maine was concluded today, under the same remarkable weather conditions that marked its start at Marblehead eight days ago, and its visits to Portland, Boothbay Camden, North Haven, Billing's Cove, Bartlett's Narrows, Winter Harbor and Bar Harbor. It is many years since a yacht club cruise has had such a succession of clear days.

That the yachtsmen who reached Bar Harbor shortly after noon today are an enthusiastic lot of amateur tars is putting it mildly, while it is equally certain that the numerous members of other yacht clubs who have been with the Eastern fleet this year will return home with some new ideas in yachting, especially in the conduct of squadron runs.

The yachts strolled over to Bar Harbor, six miles around the end of Gilmstone neck, during the day, with the racing portion of the fleet stopping off Egg rock for the last contest of the cruise. The cruise today was 26 miles in length, from Egg Rock whistler to Baker Island and return, going by way of the Schoodic Head whistler. It was expected that the yachts would have a beat on some portion of the cruise and that more miles would be added to the unusually large total of windward legs sailed this year.

While the sporting element was playing its final game off Egg rock the cruising portion of the fleet ran into Bar Harbor and their stewards and cooks were soon ashore, replenishing much depleted lockers.

The annual dinner will be held tonight at the reading room, where an usual number of silver trophies will be distributed to the winners of the week. While the squadron will disband at colors tonight a number of the yachts will remain until Monday, to start in the 161-mile race to Marblehead in the second contest for the Guy Norman, cup. Captain E. Walter Clark of the Irolita has one leg in this trophy, which must be won three times by a yacht owner to obtain possession.

RACE CALLED OFF.

Eastern Yacht Club Fleet Arrives at Bar Harbor at Noon.

BAR HARBOR, Maine, July 15.—The Eastern Yacht Club fleet, which left Winter Harbor this forenoon, reached here at 1 p. m. today, the race for the day off Egg Rock having been cancelled, on account of light winds and the desire of the yachtsmen to make an early harbor. Most of the yachtsmen came ashore during the afternoon for a stroll about the town, and a little golf at Kebo Valley, while others went on long rides or called on friends among the cottagers.

TO OFFSET WAGE INCREASE.

A Number of Steamship Companies to Advance Passenger Rate.

LIVERPOOL, July 15.—A number of the steamship companies involved in the recent shipping strike today decided to advance the passenger rates to the United States and Canada by from $1.25 to $2.50, in order to offset the increase in wages which they were obliged to grant the strikers. It is possible that there will be some increase in freight rates.

DEATHS IN AMOY.

Twenty Five in Two Weeks from the Plague, Small Pox and Cholera.

AMOY, China, July 15.—During the two weeks ending yesterday there were reported here 25 deaths from the bubonic plague, eight from small pox, and three from cholera.

A BENEFICIARY OF FAVORITISM.

Record of Major Ray of Pay Department of Army to be Investigated.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Investigation will be made of the record of Major Beecher B. Ray of the pay department of the army, says the Army and Navy register. It is said that in response to a resolution by Mr. Covington of Maryland, calling for information "relative to charges of misconduct on the part of officers of the pay department, since January 1, 1905," the department returned in complete records in the case of Major Ray. Allegations are made that he had been the beneficiary of favoritism in the matter of frequent and prolonged leave, even when other officers did not get such leave as they were entitled to under the regulations.

It is said that an investigation will develop something akin to a sensation.

A BLACKHAND OUTRAGE.

An Italian Barber at Jeanette, Pa., Killed by a Fruit Dealer.

JEANNETTE, Pa., July 15.—Upon the signal of the Blackhand to turn money over to its agent, George Labarto, a wholesale fruit merchant, shot and killed Venel Ceciliano, an Italian barber, here today, and immediately thereafter eight letters from the Blackhand demanding money of Labarto upon pain of death, were turned over to the police by Mrs. Labarto.

Ceciliano entered the store of Labarto and lighted a stogie and was shot dead. The lighting of the stogie was the signal of the Blackhand in a demand for $2,000. The first shot struck Ceciliano in the face and he fell to the floor. Three more shots struck him in the breast and legs. The fifth shot carried away a little finger on a hand of Labarto's daughter, who stood in line of the firing. Ceciliano was taken to a hospital, where he died, and Labarto has escaped.

RESULT OF EXCESSIVE HEAT.

The Dowager Duchess of Devonshire Dies In London.

LONDON, July 15.—The Dowager Duchess of Devonshire, who was taken suddenly ill at the Sandown Park race meeting yesterday, as a result of the excessive heat, died early today. The duchess was removed in an unconscious condition from the club enclosure to Esher Place, the residence of Sir Edgar Vincent, near the track, where she expired without having regained consciousness.

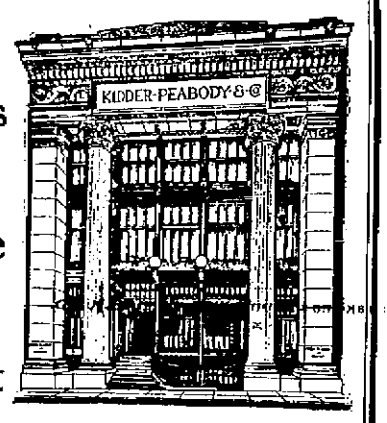

TIME TO FILE EXCEPTIONS.

Striking Coal Miners of Lafayette and Louisville Guilty of Charges Made.

DENVER, July 15.—Fourteen striking coal miners of Lafayette and Louisville, Col., members of the United Mine Workers of America who have been on trial for the last week before Judge Greely Whitford, on charges of contempt in disregarding the court's injunction against violence and intimidation, were found guilty by Judge Whitford yesterday and were given sentences ranging from imprisonment in the county jail for one year to fines of $250 and costs. Attorneys for the miners were denied the right of appeal to the supreme court but were given 30 days in which to file a bill of exceptions.

OFF FOR ROCKY POINT.

Members of Coronet Council Leave to Attend the Royal Arcanum Field Day.

At noon today about 30 members of Coronet Council, Royal Arcanum, with a number of others left Kinsley's wharf on launch H. M. Champlon for Rocky Point, to enjoy the Field Day sports, expecting to return at 7 o'clock this evening. The program includes a base ball game between married and single men of the up-the-river Councils at 11 o'clock, a shore dinner at 1:30, to be followed by a 100-yard dash, hop, step and jump; ladies' egg and spoon race, potato race, boys' shoe race, three-legged race, girl's 50-yard race and a relay race between teams of several Councils. Coronet Council will furnish the prizes for the ladies' egg and spoon race. Past Regent Horace S. Brown of the local Council is a member of the committee on sports and games.

Coronet Council at its meeting Friday evening initiated one candidate in the full degree, the team appearing for the first time in the summer regalia and presenting new tableaux for the ceremonies.

Grand Vice Regent John H. French of East Providence, the new district deputy of Coronet Council, made an unexpected visit and gave an interesting address, presenting badges of honor and Arcanum spoons to Past Regent J. Harry Brown, Vice Regent Thomas B. Tanner and Marco Christiano, who have recently presented successful candidates for membership. At the close of the meeting District Deputy Grand Regent French was entertained at Bigalke's, a good number of the members accompanying him.

WINTER SERIES OF Y. M. C. A. LECTURES TO MEN.

General Secretary Chapin of the Young Men's Christian Association reports that he is having good success in contracting for men of national reputation to give addresses to men on Sunday afternoons next winter. The series has been planned under the auspices of the religious work committee and is made possible by special subscriptions from interested friends of the Association. About $300 is needed to complete the enterprise.

Some of the meetings will be held in a theatre and all will be free to the men of the community. Five of the addresses will be on the general theme of "The American Home" and be in the interest of the purity and permanency of the American type of home life.

WITH RED FIRE AND A BAND.

Victorious Atlantic City Club Welcomed Home by Brother Elks.

Presentations to Mr. Mostyn of the Connecticut—What the Papers Say of Newport Showing.

The Atlantic City Club arrived home this morning form the Elks Grand Lodge convention at Atlantic City, covered with glory, and were given a short reception on the arrival of steamer Commonwealth by the stay-at-homes of Newport Lodge and many others. It was thought that some mark of appreciation should be given the club for the fine showing made at Atlantic City, because it was not due to accident but to the good work, careful training and forethought of those who went there to represent Newport, and succeeded so well. So Friday evening a meeting of the stay-at-homes was held in the hall in the Brownstone, where the drill squad trained, and it was arranged to have the Newport military band and as many of the members as could be present at the dock when the Commonwealth arrived, and give the members an escort as far as Washington square, a hearty welcome home and some red fire.

It was done. That there might not be any mistake about the red fire, Captain Tom Shea was out with his launch, seeing on the Bluebiant as the boat approached the dock. There was also red fire on the wharf, outside the danger lines established by the company. The band was there with merry music and the crowd gave the returning victors a hearty welcome as they came ashore, Mayor Doyle being among those to extend a welcome hand and congratulate the members on the fine showing made. As soon as all were ashore a line was formed and the home guard escorted the club to Washington square, where the band played and the members then dispersed, each going home his own way. It was thought that this was the best way to give a welcome, as, had the club gone to Fall River and come down on the early train, it would be difficult to give a good home-coming greeting. As it was, the members had time to obtain a rest after the arrival.

There was something before this. After the boat had left New York, bound home, Captain D. J. McGowan of the drill squad gathered the members and their friends in the saloon for the last formal function of the excursion. They were not alone, for almost every one on the boat wished to be in what was doing and gathered around. A number of sailors who were on board were ranged on either side, making a pretty picture. Mr. McGowan, in behalf of the members of the club, presented to Mr. M. M. Mostyn of battleship Connecticut a handsome gold watch, in recognition of the good work he had done in fitting out the miniature battleship at Atlantic City and seeing that everything about it was ship-shape and naval. Then, in behalf of the women of the party, Mrs. B. M. Anthony presented Mr. Mostyn with a watch fob to go with the watch.

It was a complete surprise for Mr. Mostyn, who had done his part with the sole idea of making the float a complete success. He told the members it would be a proud moment when he returned on board the Connecticut and showed the officers and the crew the handsome present. This morning at Herrmann's the watch was suitably engraved, as follows:

Presented to,
M. M. Mostyn
by
Newport Lodge, 101, B. P. O. Elks,
July 14, 1911.

The returning members say they had a great time. The drill squad proved so good in practice, and Mr. McGowan had such a reputation from other drill squads which he had taken down to New Jersey in competition, that the 27 teams entered for the competitive drill all acquired "cold feet," notwithstanding the heat, and Newport had a walkover. The judges put the squad through a severe drill, calling for other moves than the ones on the program, to test the ability of the squad to do correct work.

That the report of the popularity of the battleship float brought home by early returning members was correct is shown by the reports in the newspapers. The Atlantic City Daily Press has the following: "But how the throng did like the sailors of Newport Lodge, who dragged the battleship Newport through the four miles of paved street. Sixty men in white attire, sailor fashion and armed with cutlasses, pulled the model of the pride of Rhode Island along and were cheered and then cheered again."

In its detailed description it says:

"A huge float, a representation of the battleship Newport, was tugged along in the parade by 100 of Newport Elks. The ship was 10 feet long, perfect in every detail, with turrets, big guns, searchlights and military masts aflutter with international flags, while a wreath of smoke curled from the three funnels. Every one of the Newport men was a sailor, in white navy garb and outfit, navy sailor hats, blue piping about their trousers and blouses and white leggings. Everywhere there was a cheer for the battleship and the Elk-tars."

The Philadelphia North American had the following:

"Curiously enough, the Kensington Band of Philadelphia headed Newport, R. I. lodge. This lodge showed another striking costume. The members were attired to represent United States marines. Their uniforms were white and they carried sabres. The lodge also showed one of the few floats in line and certainly were entitled to the earnest consideration of the judges. The float had in it a model of the battleship Newport 20 feet long and perfect in detail. From one of the smokestacks real smoke was puffing."

The Philadelphia Inquirer said:

"There were several novel features introduced in the parade which evoked cheers and aroused the throng along the route of the procession to loud applause. Perhaps the most attractive lodge in line was that from Newport, R. I. They were dressed as 'jackies' in their service uniform, equipped with sabres, and they hauled a float upon which had been erected a miniature model of a battleship. This figuring machine was a perfect reproduction, complete in every detail, of the newest type of dreadnught. No less than 500 pieces were brought here from Newport several days ago, and it took a committee the entire week to put these pieces together."

CAUGHT ON THE BOAT.

Man Wanted in Providence Identified on the Priscilla and Turned Over to Local Police.

When steamer Priscilla arrived was boarded by Inspector Tobin and from Fall River Friday evening she Joseph E. Goyn was taken ashore and placed in custody on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses, made by the Providence police. It appears that Goyn had obtained money on a deed which was signed by some woman other than his wife. When the latter heard of this she made inquires and the real estate agent said she was not the woman who had signed the deed. The woman who did sign was arrested and the police went after Goyn, tracing him to Attleboro and then to Taunton.

Believing that he would try to escape on the New York boat, Inspector Ahearn hastened to Fall River, but arrived too late to make an inspection of the boat. He put the real estate agent on board and telephoned the Newport police. Mr. Lee, the agent, identified Goyn on board, and he was taken in charge before the boat reached here and turned over to the local police. Inspector Ahearn came here later by trolley and this morning took his prisoner back to Providence, pleased to catch him after a somewhat exciting chase, in which he had shown good judgment.

PORTSMOUTH.

Epworth League Has Well Attended Lawn Party on Grounds of Methodist Church.

[Regular correspondence of the News]

The lawn party given by the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church on the church lawn and in the vestry, afternoon and evening, was well attended, the supper including chicken, salmon and potato salads, rolls, cake, tea and coffee. There were four booths on the lawn. That of the cake table, in charge of Mrs. A. Fremont Grinnell and Mrs. William F. Brayton, was trimmed with yellow and white crepe paper. The colors of the candy booth were red and white, with Mr. Charles H. Borden in charge, having as asistant, Miss Minnie Dennis. Red, white and blue crepe paper and bunting were the decorations of the ice cream section, with Mr. A. F. Grinnell in charge. The fancy work table of the Ladies Benevolent Society, in yellow and white, was presided over by Mrs. A. V. L. Dennis and Mrs. Perry G. Randall. Mrs. John Wadsworth sold supper tickets and Miss Susie Littlefield ice cream tickets. The supper was served in the vestry and the tables were adorned with flowers. Mrs. Annie Dennis, Mrs. Charles H. Borden and Miss Laura Wadsworth were the committee of arrangements and served the salads. Miss Lois Ashley sold lemonade.

Miss Florence Wood and Miss Gladys Winslow of Fall River have been guests of Miss Bessie Barker, and Mrs. Whitehead and her daughter, Mabel, of Brooklyn have been guests of Mrs. Beulah Barker.

The Young People's orchestra of Fall River, which furnished music at St. Paul's last winter, will play at the lawn party of that church.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Townsend of Batavia, N. Y., are visiting Mr. Townsend's sister, Mrs. Minot A. Steele, and family.

Mrs. William Feency has been spending the week in Mansfield, Mass., with Miss Ida Lewis.

Miss Edith Hunter is with a camping party in the Adirondacks.

Rev. John Wadsworth and family have as guests Mr. Charles A. Nichols of Boston.

Mrs. James Livesey entertained Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson and their sons, Albert and Arthur, Jr., of New Bedford.

Five chickens were hatched out by the sun on Mr. Henry Anthony's farm this week. While mowing, the horse stepped into a hen's nest, injuring the hen so that it was killed, and 10 of the eggs were destroyed. Those remaining were left by a wall and at night Mr. Anthony found five chickens in place of the eggs. Another hen took charge of them and they are doing well.

Mrs. Mary Macomber has gone to Nantucket to spend July, and will spend August and September in Jaffrey, N. H.

Mrs. Charles Philbiad and family of Jersey City are spending a month in town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tweedale will not spend the summer here with their cousin, Miss Emma A. Tallman, as usual Mrs. Tweedale is at Atlantic City and Colonel John Tweedale, chief clerk of the War Department, is for the present at least detained in Washington by business connected with his position.

Mr. J. Thayer Lincoln is on a Southern trip, combining business and pleasure.

Mr. John E. Grandfield, owner of a new store at Island Park, started a fire Thursday morning, with the intention of burning rubbish, but the grass back of the store was so dry that the fire spread along to the store. Mr. Harman and his son Charles had the help of several others to put out the blaze.

Mr. James Scott went to New York Thursday night to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law.

Cases of prostration from the heat the early part of the week are now becoming generally known. Mr. George Thurston was one of these, requiring a physician for quite a long time. Tuesday, a man employed by Mr. William H. Mayer at "Slate Hill Farm" was unconscious from the heat; also Mr. George Anthony, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Anthony, on the East Main road. The farmers, who were largely employed in haying during the hot days, were great sufferers.

THROWN ON THEIR OWN RESOURCES.

Officers and Men Alike Left to Work Out Problems for Themselves.

National Guardsmen Conducting Their Drills Practically Without Help from the Regulars.

This year the scheme is being tried of throwing the National Guardsmen upon their own resources and during the week there has been just about enough of the regular element present at the artillery drills to observe the work done and preserve government property. The troops have now been under instruction at the forts for four years and while at first every man and officer so far as possible had as guide a member or the regular service, this has been gradually eliminated until the militiamen have no one constantly to prompt them.

Before the regulars have been in actual commanding positions at all times, but this year the former student officers are commanding and are not interfered with by the observers unless they make an error which threatens damaging results. Similarly with the men, there are a few batterymen about during the gun drills, who keep their eyes wide open and ready to jump in and take a hand, but they are seldom obliged to do this. As to the encampments, they are strictly administered by the National Guard officers, without coaching from the regular officers. For instance, when gun drill is completed at Fort Wetherill Major Tracy, U. S. A., returns to Fort Adams and Colonel Mulhearne, Rhode Island National Guard, is the full post commander, of course subject to orders of the district commander, the same as is the case with regular officers commanding posts.

The test will probably provide the War Department with information as to just how successful has been the scheme of training the Guardsmen as coast artillerymen and to what extent they can be depended upon to augment the regulars in manning the forts in time of actual hostilities. There have been critics who have said that it was impossible to make coast artillerymen out of militiamen with such training as it was practicable to give them, but it now looks as if they had made a serious error.

There is another side to the present plan for the tour of duty, and that is a feeling of lonesomeness on the part of the guardsmen left alone to themselves. They say they greatly enjoyed the association with the regulars.

Today the guardsmen were mustered before the army paymaster and received their stipend from the government, while the remainder of the pay which they receive for the tour will come from the state and will be given to them at their armories. The experience which the officers have had in preparing the pay rolls of their companies has made this part of the work lighter this year and greatly facilitated the task. Tonight, on account of the distribution of pay, Newport will quite likely see a number of the men on the streets, for they will as usual be dispensed to run the guard.

There will be a simulated attack on the forts tonight, when the various craft of the army quartermaster's department will try to come within an agreed distance of the forts without discovery. There will be the flashing of searchlights, the manipulation of the great guns to train them on the attacking fleet if they are discovered.
